

Inver Lassies

Reel

Inver Lassies: A late 19th century tune, which appears in the Athole Collection. There are four possible sources for “Inver”: a village in Perthshire opposite Dunkeld on the Tay; another on the Dornoch Firth six miles east of Tain; a hamlet near Crathie in Aberdeenshire; and a seat in Caithness near Dunbeath.

Irish Jig

Irish Jig: there is a version of this in Ian and Gordon Duncan’s A Few Tunes for the Highland Bagpipe where it is called “Snug in the Blanket”; the version reproduced here is a different one which I have played for years.
