

Alistair Fergus Ewan: named for the son of a friend, one of the best university administrators in Scotland and who died tragically young. This is a young man's tune, the first piece I was ever satisfied with, although perhaps it smacks a little too obviously of raw ambition.