

Bob Nicol's Bonnet: the bonnet in question was a generous affair. Bob had a large head and an ample, stylish, grey balmoral which it sometimes seemed to me could have contained, quite comfortably, a head and a half of mine; musically it tries to capture a notion of playful circularity.