

The High Road to Linton

Reel

The High Road to Linton: A six part setting, good for playing for social dancing. When you get a bunch of pipers playing an eightsome reel with this it really rocks. The tune itself is quite an old one, first published in the closing years of the 18th century by Red Rob MacIntosh, the Gows and others. The Linton concerned may be Linton House near Monymusk in Aberdeenshire. There are also two villages, East Linton and West Linton, south of Edinburgh.
