THE TRIPLET VARIATION OR FOUR NOTE TAOR-LUATH.

4th table.

*All passages such as these are played at the pleasure of the performer.

Subtract the time of the "Thematic Grace Notes" E and D from the note of the Theme to which they are linked. Make the E considerably longer than the D.

TAOR-LUATH.

5th table.

* Play as if written thus—

6th table.

TAOR-LUATH-A-MACH.

The musical notation for 'The Rose Tree' is presented in two systems. The first system contains the first two lines of the melody, and the second system contains the next two lines. Each line of music is accompanied by a 4x8 grid of dots. In the first system, the first two lines of dots are solid black, while the third and fourth lines have one white dot each at the 6th position. In the second system, the first two lines of dots have one white dot each at the 3rd position, while the third and fourth lines are entirely white.

7th table.

TAOR-LUATH BREABACH.

7th table.

The grace notes in this Variation are the same as those in table 5th.

CRÙN-LUATH.

8th table.

Musical notation for CRÙN-LUATH in 6/8 time, consisting of four measures. Below the notation is a fingering table with two rows of dots. The top row contains 24 dots, and the bottom row contains 24 dots. Some dots are open circles, indicating specific fingerings or techniques.

The Double Beats written as they are played, for fingering see 12th Table.

Musical notation showing double beats in 2/4 time, consisting of four measures. Brackets under the first, second, and third measures are labeled "two ways", indicating different playing techniques.

CRÙN-LUATH-A-MACH.

9th table.

Musical notation for CRÙN-LUATH-A-MACH in 6/8 time, consisting of four measures. Below the notation is a fingering table with two rows of dots. The top row contains 24 dots, and the bottom row contains 24 dots. Some dots are open circles, indicating specific fingerings or techniques.

CRÙN-LUATH FOSGAILTE.

10th table.

Musical notation for CRÙN-LUATH FOSGAILTE in 6/8 time, consisting of four measures. Below the notation is a fingering table with two rows of dots. The top row contains 24 dots, and the bottom row contains 24 dots. Some dots are open circles, indicating specific fingerings or techniques.

CRÜN-LUATH BREABACH.

11th table.

The grace notes in the above cuttings are the same as in Crunluath 8th table.

DOUBLE BEATS.

12th table.

*Although it is not a "Thermal Grace Note" the time of the second beat note in groups 1 2 3 4 and 5 is subtracted from the note of the Theme to which it is linked. The introductory Thermal Grace Notes, E and D, in groups 4 5 and 6 appropriate part of the time and accent of the thermal notes they are linked to, and their value and effect can be appreciated by reference to the example on the preceding page.

GRIPS AND SHAKES.

13th table.

The 13th table features a musical staff in 4/4 time with a treble clef. It contains four measures of music, each starting with a quarter rest followed by a quarter note, eighth notes, and a quarter note. Below the staff are two rows of dot patterns, each divided into four columns corresponding to the measures. The top row of dots is a 5x4 grid of solid black dots. The bottom row of dots is a 5x4 grid where the first three columns are solid black dots and the fourth column has a white dot in the first row, with all other dots being solid black.

This system continues the 13th table with another musical staff in 4/4 time, also with a treble clef. It contains four measures of music, each starting with a quarter rest followed by a quarter note, eighth notes, and a quarter note. Below the staff are two rows of dot patterns, each divided into four columns. The top row of dots is a 5x4 grid where the first three columns are solid black dots and the fourth column has a white dot in the first row, with all other dots being solid black. The bottom row of dots is a 5x4 grid where the first three columns are solid black dots and the fourth column has a white dot in the first row, with all other dots being solid black.

14th table.

The 14th table features a musical staff in 4/4 time with a treble clef. It contains two measures of music, each starting with a quarter rest followed by a quarter note, eighth notes, and a quarter note. Below the staff are two rows of dot patterns, each divided into two columns corresponding to the measures. The top row of dots is a 5x2 grid of solid black dots. The bottom row of dots is a 5x2 grid where the first column has a white dot in the first row and the second column has a white dot in the first row, with all other dots being solid black.
