This musical score is written for piano and consists of nine systems of two staves each (treble and bass clef). The music is characterized by intricate, rapid sixteenth-note patterns in the treble clef, often with triplets and slurs. The bass clef provides a steady accompaniment with eighth and sixteenth notes. The score includes several annotations: "Doubling VAR: 3." appears above the third system, "D.C." (Da Capo) is at the end of the seventh system, and "Creanluith or Round Movement." is written above the eighth system. The piece concludes with a final double bar line at the end of the ninth system.
